Dear Market Participant and Other Interested Parties:

Re: Changes to Content and Ownership of Market Reports

As of May 1, 2010, the Market Surveillance Administrator (MSA) will cease publication of the Daily Snapshot and the Weekly Market Monitor reports. All back issues of these reports will be archived on the MSA's website at www.albertamsa.ca.

The AESO is pleased to announce that starting May 3, 2010, two new market reports will be published to the AESO's website at www.aeso.ca. The AESO's new reports are similar to the reports previously published by the MSA and will include additional material on the Operating Reserve market, Dispatch Down Service and dispatch levels in the Energy Market Merit Order.

The weekly report will be published every Thursday to coincide with the AESO's weekly stakeholder update newsletter and include the previous week's data (Thursday to Wednesday). The daily report will be published on all AESO business days.

The reports will be available on the AESO's website at the following paths:

- Market and System Reporting > Current and Historical Market Reports > Historical > Weekly Market Report
- Market and System Reporting > Current and Historical Market Reports > Historical > Daily Market Report

This initiative is part of a broader effort to provide useful information to the electricity industry and we trust market participants will find these enhanced reports of value.

If you have any comments or questions on the new reports, please contact Matthew Davis, Senior Analyst at ph: 403-539-2645 or matthew.davis@aeso.ca.

Yours truly,
